The Words by a young Lady.

Composed by I. A. Parrin.

London. Printed and Sold, by I: Bland. at his Music Warehouse. N^o 45. Holborn.

Siciliana.

The musical score is written for piano in G major and 6/8 time. It consists of five systems of music, each with a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The first system is marked 'Siciliana.' and features a melodic line in the treble clef and a rhythmic accompaniment in the bass clef. The second system begins with the word 'As' and continues the melodic and accompaniment lines. The third system contains the lyrics 'through lifes journey, you proceed, unskill'd in vi-ces snares; You' and is marked 'Sy.' above the staff. The fourth system contains the lyrics 'know not yet what ills a - wait, Your young unguarded years;' and is also marked 'Sy.' above the staff. The fifth system contains the lyrics 'Let prudence regu - late your choice, Take cau - tion for your guide; Let' and concludes the piece with a final cadence.

through lifes journey, you proceed, unskill'd in vi-ces snares; You know not yet what ills a - wait, Your young unguarded years;

Let prudence regu - late your choice, Take cau - tion for your guide; Let rea-son have its pro-per weight, And banish stateful pride.

Humility I'd recommend,
 Good nature too, with ease;
 Be gen'rous, good, and kind to all,
 You'll never fail to please:
 Be ever thankful to that God,
 Whose blessings you receive;
 Adore no other God but he,
 In him alone believe.

Your Parents next, attention claim,
 Due rev'rance to them pay;
 Their tender care, with gratitude,
 Return them, day by day:
 Then as to riper years you grow,
 Your blessings will increase;
 And in maturer age you'll find,
 Those blessings crown'd with peace.
